

Help Turnaround Academic Achievement.

Floyd B's Pond is story of a 12 year boy who made a fishpond for his Science Fair Project. A Curriculum Guide which connects the Common Core Standards with classroom activities can be purchased to support teachers planning. Three sample pages will be sent with this letter.

My Daddy Taught Me to Read was published in 2011 and is a true story of a nine year old girl learning to read with the help of her father. This story is a great motivator for struggling students because it has motivational poems and children's song which helps the child with their fluency.
